Hi Diane,

Please see the attached Family Planning Module for BRFS (Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance Survey).

For more information , about how many states pick up the Family Planning Module see below for a response from Karen Pazol, from CDC:

(b)(5)

(b)(5) Here is some history on the number of states that asked these questions – in 2011 and earlier, they were included as an optional module (available on public data set) WITHOUT a base fee, so the numbers are higher.

Here is the link where I am getting the information as to whether states included this as an optional module that is publicly available:

<https://www.cdc.gov/brfss/questionnaires/index.htm>. In some years it is called the “Family Planning Module” and in other years it is called the “Preconception Health Module”

1998: 11 states, all data on public file

1999: 11 states, all data on public file

2000: 13 states, all data on public file

2006: 7 state, all data on public file

2010: 5 state, all data on public file

2011: 5 states, 3 on public data file; we discovered the other 2 from extensive outreach for data to complete this report: <https://www.cdc.gov/mmwr/volumes/65/wr/mm6530e2.htm>

2012: 2 state, neither on public file; again these states were identified from outreach for the above MMWR

2013: 10 states, none on the public file – this is a special case because DRH provided funding for a larger state-added module that included contraceptive questions, along with ~10 or so other questions on related topics, such as infertility; this opportunity was not extended to all jurisdictions.

2017: 42 jurisdictions added WITH funding available to all jurisdictions that applied; data will be on public file.

Hope this helps – it is about as definite as I can be.”

Human Coalition Statement on Appointment of Diane Foley to HHS

PLANO – President Trump has appointed pro-life stalwart Diane Foley, M.D., Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Office of Population Affairs. Dr. Foley, a pediatrician and longtime pro-life advocate, brings decades of experience in the medical field and pro-life community to her new role within the Administration.

Brian Fisher, President of Human Coalition, praised the President's choice:

All people deserve leaders who recognize the dignity of human life – especially when those leaders influence the sphere of healthcare, where the abortion industry so often seeks to subvert the meaning of healthcare. We are encouraged each time our leaders recommit themselves to the truth that all humans have a fundamental right to life – and that commitment is eminently clear in the Administration's selection of Dr. Diane Foley. This is another step toward restoring respect for the dignity of human life to the most vulnerable in our nation.

Human Coalition's abortion-ending strategy fuses technology, best practices, and tangible help to compassionately serve the unreachable abortion-determined woman. Our team of diverse professionals tirelessly refines proprietary technologies and holistic approaches to rescue children and serve families in America's most abortion-dense cities.

Subject: Weekly Report

Sue,

As a recent weekly staff meeting, we discussed how to complete the weekly report. I received a little additional information and thought I’d pass it along, cc’ing Diane for her awareness.

Each week, continue ongoing projects on the report (e.g. reviewing Title X grant applications for format compliance). While it’s true that it was on the report from the previous week, the ASH reads every report and this keep ongoing projects and initiatives uppermost in his mind. It can be a basic cut and paste from the last week, and then if there are new items, they can be added to the top.

Hope that helps provide a bit more clarity.

Best,

Valerie

The findings were published online June 6 in JAMA Psychiatry. Also covering the story are MD Magazine (6/6, Kunzmann) and Healio (6/6, Demko).

Babies Born Prematurely Or Very Small May Not Fare As Well In Life As Infants Born Full-Term, Review Suggests.

HealthDay (6/6, Mozes) reports, "Babies born prematurely or very small may not fare as well in life as those born full-term," researchers concluded in a 23-study review encompassing "more than 5.9 million adults in all" from "the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Norway and Sweden." The study revealed that "adults who were born tiny or early may be more likely to lag behind educationally and professionally," and may also be "more likely to use social services." The findings were published online in Pediatrics.

The New York Times (6/6, Reynolds, Subscription Publication) reports, "Lifting weights might also lift moods, according to an important new review of dozens of studies about strength training and depression" that was published in the June issue of JAMA Psychiatry. The 33-study review revealed that "resistance exercise often substantially reduces people's gloom, no matter how melancholy they feel at first, or how often – or seldom – they actually get to the gym and lift."

President Trump Signs VA Mission Act, But Opposes Congressional Plan To Fund It.

The Washington Post (6/6, Werner, Rein) reports that on Wednesday, President Trump signed into law the VA Mission Act which expands veterans healthcare, even though he is fighting a bipartisan plan to fund the law. The article says the measure “authorizes new health care programs for veterans, but the bill does not reserve federal money to pay for those programs.” Several top senators from both parties are working to address this issue “by advancing a separate measure for the new $50 billion law, saying this is the best way to ensure the new programs give veterans access to medical care.” But Trump is urging Republicans to vote against the proposal, instead encouraging lawmakers to pay for the expansion by making cuts to existing programs.

Federal Judge Orders HHS To Process Hennepin County Teen Pregnancy Funding.

The Minneapolis Star Tribune (6/6, Chanen) reports a district court judge in Washington, DC on Friday ruled that the US Department of Health and Human Services must process Hennepin County’s teenage pregnancy prevention grant application for more than $3 million in funding. The money is critical to keeping the program afloat, and a loss in court would have meant the potential loss of 20 health educator jobs and the closing of a clinic, according to the article. The Star Tribune says the win is “a significant victory in court against the Trump administration, which seeks to defund it as part of its public health focus on abstinence.”

Op-Ed: Trump Administration Should Reconsider Proposed Title X Changes.

Former US Surgeon General Vivek H. Murthy and Alice T. Chen, former executive director for Doctors for America, write in USA Today (6/6, Murthy, Chen) to “raise serious concerns about proposed changes by the Trump administration to the Title X Family Planning program as they stand to reverse important public health progress and harm many low-income patients.” The piece points out that the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists has “recently reiterated” the American Medical Association’s standard that it is not ethical for a physician to withhold information without a patient’s consent, which is what the policy would require if a woman “specifically asked her doctor where she could go for abortion services.” Both ACOG and the AMA have voiced their opposition to the proposed Title X changes and the piece urges the Administration to reconsider them.

Hi Laura

Yes, you are correct.

Technically, if you do not have a valid SAM registration you are not permitted to submit through Grants.gov (the application portal). The Grants.gov system will not allow you to complete your application.

Page 2 of the FY18 Title X Services FOA - The HHS/OASH Office of Grants Management (OGM) will only accept applications via alternate methods (hardcopy paper via US mail. Or other provider or PDF via email) from applicants obtaining prior written approval.

I've also included the FOA as a reference.

Let me know if you have additional questions

Thanks so much, David. I want to make sure I understand this correctly—if they did not have an active SAM registration, then the application will not be reviewed because it was submitted via email?

Subject: CareNet DuPage Grant Application

Robin, David,

I am following up on a recent grant application submitted to both of you by CareNet DuPage of Illinois for Title X family planning funding. Congressman Hultgren is very supportive of their application as demonstrated by the attached letter.

In addition to dropping you this note to emphasize the congressman's support, I understand that CareNet DuPage had trouble with the online submission portal which necessitated them submitting the application by e-mail. I just wanted to ensure that their application was received without any problems and that the grants committee is giving it due consideration. CareNet submitted the documents before the May 24 deadline. The DUNS number assigned to them is 1181976720000, if that is of any help.

I appreciate your assistance. Please let me know if you have any questions or there are any problems.

Best regards,

Doug

Dear Ms. Salmon,

Thank you so much for your kind words of congratulations. I look forward to the opportunity to serve in this capacity. As you know, On June 1, 2018, HHS published a proposed update to the regulations governing the Title X family planning program designed to ensure compliance with statutory program integrity provisions governing the program and, in particular, the statutory prohibition on funding “programs where abortion is a method of family planning.” (42 U.S.C. § 300a-6) The Title X program serves approximately 4 million people annually, and the proposed update seeks to ensure a holistic and health-centered approach to safeguard the short and long-term family planning needs of more women, men, and adolescents in need of services. It is important that individuals in low-income communities continue to have access to comprehensive family planning services, and care that promotes the health of adults and youth. It is equally important that, as stewards of taxpayer funds, the Department assures that the program operates according to statutory requirements.

We welcome official comments to the Title X proposed rule, which may be made in the Federal Register at <https://www.regulations.gov/document?D=HHS-OS-2018-0008-0001>. The comment period closes on July 31, 2018. I have copied Laura Trueman, Deputy Director of the Office of Intergovernmental and External Affairs who serves as liaison to state representatives. She will be able to provide more information to you about departmental initiatives and policies.

Thank you for your service to the citizens of Iowa,

Congratulations on your new appointment! I am very happy you are there and hope to be able to work with you!

I am Sandy Salmon, State Representative from a northeast Iowa district currently serving in the Iowa House of Representatives. We have been working very hard these past few years to direct family planning dollars away from organizations that commit abortion and over to better and more comprehensive women's health care providers. In 2017 we were able to get signed into law to do this in Medicaid and in its follow-on family planning network program. Since then we have been looking at the Title X family planning funding that comes into our state.

Here is how Title X family planning works in Iowa: Title X funds come into our state from the federal government through 2 channels: the state's Dept. of Public Health (IDPH) housed in the executive branch and the Family Planning Council of Iowa (FPCI), which is a 501 c 3, a private non-government agency. No Title X money is distributed to abortionist organizations through IDPH. However, FPCI contracts with Planned Parenthood of the Heartland (PP), funneling over $1 million of federal dollars to PP. In Iowa state government cannot cut off the funding that goes through a non-governmental agency as we have no control over them.

With the recent changes announced by the administration that steer Title X funding away from abortionist organizations, I am hopeful the federal money going to FPCI would require them to only contract with recipients who do not commit abortion. I can tell you that the Planned Parenthood of the Heartland clinics to which the FPCI-channeled Title X money goes, do either surgical or webcam abortions or both.

I appreciate your efforts to stop the flow of this federal money to abortionists. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to assist you. And also please let me know if actions you are taking that specifically impact Iowa.

Thank you so much for assisting us with this!

Again, congratulations on your appointment. I am glad you are in that position.

Sincerely,

Sandy Salmon
State Representative Iowa House District 63

Hi Diane,

I've prepared a draft agenda for next Monday's staff meeting – since many of us (including you) will be participating in the Substance Use Disorders Expert Work Group on Tuesday, are you okay with having staff meeting on Monday, 6/25?

Thanks, and let me know later in the week if this looks okay or you want anything else added.

Hi Diane,

Apologies for the delay in sending these materials. (b)(5)

(b)(5)

- 1) The attached Word document is the most recent communication I have for internal use for FPAR 2.0. It is a basic description of the project.
- 2) The data element crosswalk for FPAR 2.0 outlines all of the data elements (variables) that are included in the new reporting system. See the first column of the first tab in the spreadsheet labeled "Data Element Summary Crosswalk" for the complete list of data elements that will be in FPAR 2.0.
- 3) The second Word document is a description of the standardized codes that we have developed for FPAR 2.0 (and public use). It was a huge effort to have standardized codes issued for all of our data elements, and we are thrilled that they are finally publically available through the NIH National Library of Medicine!

Looking forward to meeting.

Best,

Emily

Hi Laurie,

Diane and I will be at an off-site meeting, but will try to step out to join this call – since it will be Diane’s first interaction with the RHAs, I think it’s important that we make a point of having her say hello to them. I think David will be here in the office, and hopefully available – so, we’ll try to see if all 3 of us can be available during that time.

Thanks,
Sue

No worries; I was able to talk to Diane before she left for the airport. She's probably circled back with someone in the office for the answer. Maybe David? Happy to chat, if you're not yet in the loop, though.

Sorry, Valerie – I was out of the office at a meeting all morning – do you still want/need to talk?

Sue,
I think Diane is probably on the plane (or will be soon), so am reaching out to you with a budget question. Any chance we could briefly chat today?
